MANY ITEMS OF INTEREST

Gleaned From Various Sources—Little Points Picked Up By Vigilant Reporters.

The Parent Teachers' Association will meet Tuesday evening, April 13. Misses Powell and Bain, proprietors of the Piez-U-Shop, now have the agency for Footers' Dye Works.

Abram Barnhart, an aged citizen of this place, was seized with a stroke of paralysis yesterday morning.

Editor of The Gazette Victor E. P. Barkman has been confined to his home since Saturday, suffering with grip.

A marriage license was issued in Cumberland this week to Arnold Sheridan Bennett of Chaneyville and Frances Perdue of Pratt.

Hardware Merchant J. S. Blymyer suffered a stroke yesterday morning at his home, East Pitt Street. His condition was somewhat improved last evening.

The Woman's Circle of the Presbyterian Church will hold a market in the Odd Fellow Building, corner of Richard and Pitt Streets, on Saturday, April 17. Hot rolls and pies will be on sale in times for dinner.

It cost the borough one thousand three hundred and ninety-seven dollars and thirty-one cents to fill our water mains last fall with that very delicious "juice" pumped from the Raystown Branch of the Juniata River.

Governor Brumbaugh vetoed the "Geiser Bill" to make the mountain laurel the official state flower of Pennsylvania.

His reasons, among others, for so doing were some authorities hold that it is and has been for eighty years the official flower of Connecticut.

The House sustained the Governor's veto 174 to 6. Another bill has been introduced to make myrtle our state flower.

Fifty years ago today (April 9, 1865), at Appomattox, the Confederates waved a white flag, and General Lee surrendered his army to General Grant.

General Lee was a man of noble character and was much beloved. His father, Henry Lee ("Light-Horse Harry"), came to Bedford with Washington.

The terms which General Grant conceded were that both officers and men should be released on parole and should keep their horses, "because they would need them for their spring ploughing and farm work."

He returned to Lee his sword. There was nothing small or mean in Grant. He was a magnanimous man; a man of wide horizon.—Phoebe Peters.

The Pullman, Junior, is the new car which L. D. Blackwelder of the Bedford Garage, has added to his agency. He will arrive in Bedford today with a late model and, also, with six new Fords, being compelled to bring these overland from Pittsburgh on account of the increased demand for Fords throughout the country and the large number of orders he has placed for future delivery.

A new seven-passenger Buick was delivered this week to Dr. H. B. Strock, a roadster to Dr. C. R. Grisinger, and a five-passenger to Blair Ott of Cessna; also one to G. A. James of Rainsburg. The raceabout which was on display in the Garage window is now the property of Paul S. Hardman of Buffalo Mills.

Charles E. Koontz of Chambersville, Henry B. Fetter of Imletown, and Prof. E. B. Farmer of Mann's Choice have joined the increasing army of Ford owners.

Last of the Season
Liveryman Ross A. Stiver will hold his last horse sale for the season tomorrow at his stable West Pitt Street, beginning promptly at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Stiver has collected together about seventy-five head of horses from this county and from West Virginia, and will offer them to the public at the highest bidder's price. A large number of persons are expected at this sale, and those in need of a horse of any kind or for any particular purpose, this will be the place to secure it.

Among the horses to be sold is a fine standard bred and registered Coach Stallion. A number of good "goers" are also among the bunch. This is an excellent opportunity to secure what one needs in the horse line, and it will pay all interested to attend this, the last sale of the season.

Wagons, surries, buggies, harness, etc., also will be sold. For particulars concerning terms and commissions, read Mr. Stiver's advertisement on page three of this paper.

Local Option Rally
Rev. G. W. Faus, pastor of the Methodist Church, having been in attendance at the local option rally in Harrisburg on Wednesday, and having been present for the hearing before the law and order committee in the House of Representatives, as also for Governor Brumbaugh's address at the great mass meeting in Chestnut Street auditorium in the evening, will speak on Local Option in the Methodist Church next Sunday evening, giving a report of that great gathering at Harrisburg, and some impressions concerning the same.

A large men's chorus will lead the singing, using some of the same songs that were so effectively at Harrisburg. Whether you are for or against local option, you will be alike welcome at this service. Come and bring your friends with you.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES

Large Congregations Present at All Services—Beautiful Decorations.

The services in the various local churches were well attended on Easter Day. The cantata rendered by the choir in the Lutheran Church in the morning at 8:30 was highly appreciated by a good-sized audience. There were 217 present at the Sunday School at 9:45, and at the communion service at 11 o'clock a large congregation attended. Seventeen new members were received at this service. In the evening at 7:30 a special Easter program was rendered by the members of the Sunday School and church choir combined.

At St. Thomas' Roman Catholic Church large congregations attended the services at 8 and 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Special Easter music was rendered.

Communion service was held at St. James' Protestant Episcopal Church at 8 a. m. Holy Eucharist and sermon at 11 a. m. was very well attended. "Victory" was the theme of Rev. Anne's splendid sermon.

The usual church services were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning, 276 being present at the Sunday School at 9:45. At 11 o'clock the pastor, Rev. George W. Faus, preached an excellent sermon appropriate for the occasion, which was listened to by an unusually large audience. In the evening a special Easter service was rendered by the members of the Sabbath School, which was appreciated and enjoyed by several hundred persons.

Three hundred and twenty-two were present at the Sabbath School Sunday morning at 9:45. The regular Easter communion was celebrated at 11 o'clock, when 28 new members were received, making a total of 61 additions since January 1st. In the evening a beautiful Easter service was rendered to a large congregation by members of the Sunday School, when the smaller children were each presented with a little souvenir.

The services in the Bedford Presbyterian Church at 10:15 Sunday morning were well attended, the pastor, Rev. K. A. Bishara, preaching a very interesting sermon on "Resurrection From a Legal Point of View."

This service was followed by the regular Sabbath School at 11:30, when 122 were present. In the evening at 7:30 Rev. Bishara delivered one of his sermon-lectures to a large audience.

The usual services were held in the A. M. E. Zion Church Sunday morning. The Sabbath School at 9:45 was followed by preaching services at 11 a. m., when the pastor, Rev. D. F. Bradley, preached an Easter sermon. In the evening a special service was conducted by members of the Sunday School.

The churches were all very beautifully decorated with potted plants, palms and cut flowers.

Borough Council Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Borough Council was held Monday night, all members being present except Mr. Kegg.

The following bills were ordered paid: Blymyer Hardware Company, $6.07; W. Scott Lysinger, $1.50; Bedford Electric Light Company, $369.30; Minnich & Company, $14; Edward Bailey, $1.27; Frank Fisher, $10; Borough Auditors, $16.50; James Crouse, $93.25; Gazette Publishing Company, $2.50; E. William Hershberger was elected Street and Water Commissioner. C. O. Wilson was elected borough policeman, to succeed Walter Weaverling, who resigned the first of March.

Permits were granted as follows: To Harry Housel to erect a garage at his residence on John Street; to Dr. H. R. Brightbill to lay temporary brick pavement at his residence on Juliana Street.

Treasurer Frank J. McLaughlin reported $265.86 received during month of March, and the expenditures were $109.51, leaving a balance in treasury of $227.47.

The report of the Borough Auditors was received and accepted. Councilman Hughes was included on the committee on public scales, the other two members being Councilmen Fletcher and Stiver.

The tax rate for the ensuing year was fixed at seven mills for borough purposes and five mills for water.

An ordinance providing for the weighing and inspection by the Borough Council of all hay, straw and coal sold in the borough, was adopted.

Around the World Lecture on Tuesday Night
George B. Colman, formerly an engineer on the United States Battleship Maryland, will give his lecture on a "Cruse Around the World on a Man-o-War," on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock in Assembly Hall. The lecture will be illustrated by 160 beautifully colored stereopticon views taken by Mr. Colman during his many cruises with the vessels of the United States navy.

This lecture is one which draws filled houses in cities at 50 and 75c a seat. Through the efforts of the Young Men's Association the lecture will be offered to Bedford people at a ridiculously low price, considering the nature of the production. Seats will be on sale at Dull's Drug Store on Monday and Tuesday at 20 cents. Students of the Bedford Public Schools will be admitted for 10 cents.

Jacob Shunk

Jacob Shunk died at the home of his son, David F. Shunk, near Imletown, Saturday evening, April 3, of diseases incident to old age. He was a son of Henry and Catherine Shunk and was born in Bedford Township March 19, 1831. About sixty years ago he was married to Rebecca Sticker, who died five years ago. Three sons survive: David F. of Imletown, Henry of Chappell, Neb., and Thaddeus Shunk of Osaka, Va. One daughter, Mrs. Margaret Koontz, of Blair County is also living.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. A. G. Hermann in the Pleasant Hill Reformed Church, Imletown, Tuesday morning. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Until the time of the death of Mrs. Shunk, Mr. Shunk lived in Bedford Township. Since then he made his home with his children in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky. He returned to Imletown a few months ago and on Thursday of last week suffered a stroke of paralysis which culminated in his death Saturday evening.

Mrs. Charles W. Zook

Mrs. Charles W. Zook died at her home at Martinsburg Sunday morning, March 28, of rheumatism of which she had been a sufferer for thirteen years. She was a daughter of John and Mary Harker and was born in Bloomfield Township on December 7, 1840. She is survived by her husband, three sons and three daughters.

The funeral service was held Tuesday morning, March 30, at her late residence. Interment was made in Greenlawn Cemetery, Roaring Spring.

Sunday School Convention

A district convention of the eighth Sunday School district of this county, comprising the schools of Bedford Borough and Bedford Township, will be held in the Methodist Church of Bedford next Wednesday evening, April 14th, at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be addressed by B. S. Forsythe, the State Superintendent of the O. A. B. Classes of Pennsylvania, and by Rev. M. J. Weaver of Everett, president of the Bedford County Association.

Every Sunday School of the township, as well as those of the town, should be represented. Especially should no officer or teacher be absent unless unavoidably detained. To insure representation let delegates be chosen next Sunday by each school. We are aiming to have the Bedford district thoroughly organized and up to high standard of efficiency, in view particularly, of the coming of the County Convention to Bedford in June next.

Respectfully,
J. Anson Wright,
Pres. Bedford District.

BUSINESS MEN MEET

Form Organization to Entertain Out-of-Town Shoppers.

Bedford merchants and business men are going to show Bedford people and Bedford County farmers that goods bought in Bedford stores are more desirable and cost less than those bought from catalogue houses.

It is estimated that not less than $100,000 annually goes out of Bedford County to mail order houses to the stockholders of these concerns, and to impoverish Bedford County.

To work out definite plans, and to be in a position to "put them over," forty business men of Bedford met at a dinner on Tuesday night at the Union Hotel and effected a working organization to be known as the Bedford Boosters' Association. The slogan of the Association will be, "A dollar spent at home comes back to you again—it circulates."

Following the election of officers and the appointment of committees, it was proposed to make Bedford a more attractive place for out-of-town shoppers. The merchants have already leased a property in a central location, which will be equipped with hitching posts, sheds and feed troughs. A man will be in attendance at all times to see that the property of visitors is respected.

It was further proposed that the merchants see what they could do toward providing a rest room for women and their children, which will be equipped with toilets. Another proposal which met with favor was that of having a band concert on the public square every Saturday afternoon. Still another proposal was that of having a "clean up" week, in which property owners will be urged to make their buildings, yards and sidewalks attractive in appearance.

It is possible that the merchants may give out tickets to out-of-town shoppers on certain amounts of goods purchased, which shall be good for a meal at certain hotels and restaurants, or good for entrance at any of the moving picture shows or other places of amusement.

The officers elected are: President, Frederick A. Metzger; Vice President, R. C. Hall, H. T. Foster, Ed. D. Heckerman, J. Floyd Murdoch and J. Roy Cessna; Treasurer, P. N. Risser, and A. B. Ross was elected permanent Secretary. The Membership Committee is composed of H. B. Cessna, H. S. Smith, M. S. Enfield, J. Roy Cessna and John R. Dull, chairman. J. P. Cuppett and William Weissel were appointed to draw up a form of organization.

Rev. John H. Barney

The subject of this sketch was a son of John and Sarah Barney and was born at Warfordsburg, Fulton County, July 4, 1839, departed this life at the home of his son, J. S. Barney, in Clearville, April 3, 1915, at the age of 75 years, eight months and 29 days. Death was caused by a cancer at left eye.

Deceased was married twice and was the father of three sons and three daughters, four of the children, together with their mothers, preceded the husband and father to the spirit land. Two sons survive to mourn the loss of their father, viz: Josie S. Barney of this place, and Prof. J. Willis Barney, a student in the Columbia University, New York City. One brother, Jacob Barney, of Greensburg, Kas., also survives.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place in the Clearville Union Church Tuesday forenoon. Rev. W. C. Garland, a special friend of the family, had charge of the services and preached the sermon. Rev. Daniel G. Hetrick read the Scripture lesson and offered the opening prayer.

Rev. J. W. Hoffman of the Everett Christian Church made brief remarks and Rev. G. M. Frownfelter made the prayer at the house, the one at the grave and pronounced the benediction. The members of the G. A. R. that were present had their service at the grave, and six of their number were the pallbearers, viz: M. D. Barnard, David Snyder, W. H. Smith, John Dodson, Harvey Grubb and John Adams. The following persons acted as honorary pallbearers, viz: Dr. Americus Enfield, J. H. Longenecker, D. Cooper, R. W. Cook, P. B. Smith and Capt. A. I. Lyon. Interment was made in the graveyard at the church.

The deceased was for about sixty years an earnest loyal minister of the Christian Church, preaching in Western Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, then in Fulton County and at Clearville where he had lived the last 22 years of his life. For eight years he was the postmaster at Clearville. He preached with power and his prayers were elevating and spiritual. He was full of the Holy Ghost and of faith. In the death of Rev. Barney the Christian Church has lost a staunch friend, the temperance cause a strong advocate, the community an upright citizen and the sons a kind father and a wise counsellor and the writer a warm friend.

April 6, 1915.

Mrs. Henrietta Hicks

Mrs. Henrietta Hicks died at the home of her daughter in Akron, O., last Friday morning. She was born near Six Mile Run April 11, 1865, and was a daughter of Josiah Lehman. Five daughters survive, one of whom is Mrs. Blanche Clingerman of Pine Creek. Two sisters are also living: Mrs. Alice Roarbaugh of Six Mile Run and Mrs. William Ackerson of Woodlawn, Pittsburgh.

The body was brought to Roaring Spring, her former home, Saturday evening, and interment was made in Greenlawn Cemetery.

ROBBERS AT WORK

Straub's General Store Entered by Thieves Sunday Morning.

Early Sunday morning thieves broke into W. H. Straub's General Store and stole several pairs of shoes, rubber boots, some money, tobacco, etc. Entrance was made through the front door, the robbers using a pick, cutting away the wood-work from the lock, then forcing it open. The intruders had first attempted to force the rear door, using the pick as a bar, but were unsuccessful from the fact that the door was heavily bolted.

A number of persons living in the vicinity of the store heard the robbers at work, but gave little attention to the noise, believing it to be made by rowdies on the street. Both doors were considerably damaged, and the indications are that the parties responsible were drunk. The floor of the store room was covered with burnt matches, plainly showing that the thieves spent considerable time in the store.

On Tuesday most of the articles stolen were recovered by Mr. Straub, they having been hidden in an alley near the old jail. Sheriff Dodson and Railroad Officer C. D. Beegle have been investigating the matter and it is likely arrests will be made soon.

How to Destroy Catarrh Germs and End Catarrh Forever

Catarrh, according to a noted authority, is a germ disease and the only way to cure it so it will stay cured and never come back is to kill and drive out of your system the catarrhal germs which have found lodgment there. When the germs go the catarrh will stop.

There is nothing better for destroying catarrh germs than breathing in to your nose and lungs the pleasant, soothing, healing, germ destroying air of Hyomei (pronounced High-ome) made from purest oil of Eucalyptus and combined with other powerful healing, antiseptic and germ destroying ingredients. Hyomei penetrates and heals the inflamed swollen membranes of your nose and throat, stops discharges, clears the passages and completely overcomes the disease by destroying its cause. For catarrh germs cannot live in your body after Hyomei reaches them. F. W. Jordan, Jr., and many other good druggists in Bedford and vicinity have long sold Hyomei on a positive guarantee of successful results or money back and find this generous policy pays—Adv. 2Apr21

BIG CUT IN WHISKY OUTPUT

Production Drops 66 Per Cent. in Kentucky in One Year.

Washington, April 5.—An enormous decrease in the production of whisky, due to the increased dry area in the United States, is pointed out in a statement issued by the Anti-Saloon League of America.

To controvert statements circulated by the liquor interests, that prohibition laws do not prohibit and that the consumption of booze is not decreasing, the league quotes the following from the Wall Street Journal:

"Production of whisky in Kentucky in January was 1,980,000 gallons, against 6,102,452 gallons in January, 1914; production in Pennsylvania was 1,037,808 gallons in January, against 1,552,455 a year ago, and in Maryland, 506,919 gallons, against 918,582 last year. Whisky bottled in bond in January was 691,508 gallons, compared with 928,187 in January, 1914."

The Anti-Saloon League's statement then says:

"The Kentucky decrease was 66 2-3 per cent., the Pennsylvania decrease virtually 33 per cent. and the Maryland decrease more than 40 per cent. These figures can mean only that the distillers, looking, as always, to the future, realize that within the next few years there will be comparatively little, if any, demand for whisky. It usually takes real whisky from three to eight years to properly age after distillation. Eight years is about the time the United States of America, in the opinion of tens of thousands of people, will continue to exist before it becomes absolutely prohibition territory."

"Therefore, while the distillers are asserting that prohibition does not prohibit and that as much whisky as ever is being drunk, they are quietly preparing for the inevitable and making only a sufficient amount of whisky to protect them in territory which does remain wet should national constitutional prohibition fail to materialize by the time the whisky now being made has properly aged, about seven or eight years."

Reduce Fire Hazard

THE Indiana State Fire Marshal declares that every city and town should conduct "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigns, to reduce fire hazards, if for no other purpose. And he declares that the application of paint to wooden buildings is quite as important a fire preventative as is the removal of rubbish from garrets and areaways. He is therefore strongly urging "Clean Up and Paint Up" weeks for every city in the state.

"Inspections in the larger cities," says the Indiana Fire Marshal, "show that about 10 per cent of all buildings and premises within business districts are being endangered by rubbish. Though the residence districts have not been inspected, the proportion, no doubt, is just as large. One of the most effective fire preventatives is clean and tidy premises, both in business houses and in dwellings."

The Fire Marshal is advising everywhere the painting of the shingle roof. "Paint not only makes shingles more durable," says the Fire Marshal, "but it acts as a fire preventative as well. By covering and protecting the fuzzy splinters that form on the outer surface of shingles, the paint greatly reduces the likelihood of fire from falling sparks."

Scores of Indiana cities followed the Fire Marshal's advice last year and hundreds will do it this year. Everywhere the school children take a prominent part in this work. The "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign gives them their first lesson in fire prevention.

New Enterprise School Notes

On Tuesday, March 30, the pupils and teacher of the New Enterprise Advanced School showed the good will and friendship prevailing in their school by bringing their baskets well filled with many toothsome dainties which were placed on a large table in the school room and at the noon hour all did ample justice to the feast, consisting of different kinds of sandwiches, pickles, olives, baked beans, potato salad, potato chips, divinity fudge, peaches, eggs, bologna, oranges, ice cream and cakes. The hour was spent in a pleasing manner and will be one long to be remembered by both pupils and teacher.

Monday evening there was an educational meeting held in the Brethren Church at New Enterprise, which was well attended. The program was well rendered which consisted of an excellent address by our County Superintendent Lloyd H. Hinkle; Music by the Salemsville Orchestra; Piano Trio and Duet, Vocal Duet; Recitations; Pantomime, and Class Song. Our County Superintendent deserves congratulations and much credit for the interest he takes in the educational work. We are very glad for the interest and patriotism taken by loyal teachers, directors, patrons and citizens, and hope the good work may prosper and bring about good results in the future.

Osterburg

April 6—The Easter services held in the Lutheran and Reformed Churches of this place were of an exceptionally high order and were largely attended. The pulpits in both churches were neatly decorated with Easter flowers, palms and ferns. Special music was rendered by the choirs at the morning and evening services.

Harry Hull of Hollidaysburg, who purchased the large apple orchard of Bruce Croyle last Fall, has four men working every day trimming and cleaning up the trees. He contemplates building a new house in the orchard in the near future.

Mrs. Hannah Brown of Lovely was the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. E. Mason, a day recently.

Percy Barley was a recent guest of his cousin, Luther Bailey, of Roaring Spring.

Miss Alma Mason, assistant teacher in the Imber schools, and her mother, Mrs. H. E. Mason, were shopping in Altoona on Saturday.

Miss Blanche Kerr and brother, Glen Kerr, of Schellsburg were visitors with their sister, Mrs. Bruce Croyle, of this place several days the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ickes of Weyandt were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Josiah Imber, not long since.

People in our town are all busy making garden and planting potatoes.

Your Hair Needs Parisian Sage

If your hair is full of dandruff, thin, streaky, dull and never will do up to look pretty, you can almost immediately remove the cause making it beautiful, thick and fluffy by the use of Parisian Sage, one of the most helpful and invigorating hair and scalp tonics known.

Parisian Sage not only saves your hair but furnishes the nourishment needed to make it grow long, abundant, and radiant with life. Just one application removes every trace of dandruff and stops scalp itch—your hair becomes soft and fluffy with an incomparable gloss, beauty and charm.

You cannot be disappointed with this harmless and delicately perfumed tonic, and it costs but a trifle at F. W. Jordan, Jr.—Ad 2Apr21

TO ENJOY WINTER

Prof. Frankland demonstrates that COD LIVER OIL generates more body-heat than anything else.

In SCOTT'S EMULSION the pure oil is so prepared that the blood profits from every drop, while it fortifies throat and lungs.

If you are subject to cold hands or feet, if you suffer from indigestion, or if you are weak and run down, easily take SCOTT'S EMULSION for one month and watch its good effects.

"Movies" Will Reproduce Casting of Women's Liberty Bell.

Harrisburg, April 5.—Pennsylvania Suffragists who were unable to make the trip to Troy, N. Y., to witness the casting of the Women's Liberty Bell, will soon have an opportunity to see the entire ceremony—in the "movies." Three of the biggest film concerns in the country had camera men at the Meneely Bell Foundry when the casting took place, and they carefully recorded every step in the program, from the time the Pennsylvania delegation left their hotel and were escorted by the Troy Suffragists to the foundry, until the bell was cast and the white hot mould was covered with sand by the workmen.

Altogether, 750 feet of film was used in "taking" the ceremonies and the most picturesque features will soon appear on the regular "News Weekly" reels sent out by the Pathe, Mutual and Hearst-Selig film companies.

WOMEN WORK FOR BETTER HOMETOWN

THE "Parlor" variety of civic work is rapidly becoming obsolete in the ranks of hundreds of women's clubs throughout the land, where the members have taken up the practical altruistic work of the "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign.

Mrs. Clarence Baxter, Kirksville, Mo., chairman of the Women's Committee of the National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Bureau, is helping women everywhere to accomplish what she accomplished in Kirksville last year, a thorough refurbishing of the entire town. Mrs. Baxter is also chairman of the civic and health department of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, and vice chairman of the civic department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. She writes in a circular letter:

"Many people spend hundreds of dollars on the furnishings of their houses, and only an occasional caller gets to admire them. A much smaller amount spent in a coat of paint for the exterior, for a general cleaning of the grounds and a few flowers, would give pleasure to these callers, as well as to thousands of passersby."

Mrs. E. T. Senseney, prominent in ultra-society circles, forced every restaurant owner and merchant dealing in food articles in St. Louis to clean up as an aftermath of the campaign there.

Yes, here is a mighty good opportunity for the women to get busy and do something for the community which they are fitted to do better than the men, and which is more important than a thousand and one things over the accomplishment of which the men swell out their chests with evident pride. The women know all about "cleaning house." Where they have had a chance at "cleaning city" they have shown excellent results. Let's "Clean Up and Paint Up."

First Dose Ends Indigestion, Heartburn, or Gas on Stomach

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking Tonaline Tabs.

People with weak stomachs should take Tonaline Tablets occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas on stomach, or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or sick stomach; and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking Tonaline Tablets.

Go to your druggist and get a $1 box of Tonaline Tablets and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. Tonaline Tabs freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

Tonaline Tablets cost $1.00 for a 50 days' treatment. At druggists or mailed by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.—Adv. 19 Mar 15

TEN WEEKS IN BED--EMINENT PHYSICIANS FAILED--WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

I wish to inform you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of Swamp-Root. I had been a sufferer for more than twenty years from kidney and liver trouble and was almost constantly treated by the most eminent physicians who could only give me temporary relief. I had been in bed ten weeks when I began the use of Swamp-Root. Inside of twenty-four hours I could see that I had been greatly benefited. I continued to use Swamp-Root until I had used several bottles when I really felt that my old trouble was completely cured and I am positive that any person suffering with kidney or liver trouble can be cured by the use of this preparation.

I am now in the best of health, better than I have been for ten years or more. I do not know how to express myself as strongly as I desire, in favor of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, as I am sure that it saved my life and that my good health is due entirely to this great remedy. I heartily recommend it to every sufferer and am confident they can be benefited as I have been. It is a pleasure for me, gentlemen, to hand you this recommendation.

MRS. H. J. PRICE,
1406 Center St., Portsmouth, Ohio.
Personally appeared before me this 13th day of September, 1909, Mrs. H. J. Price, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

HEADACHE

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D.

Headache is one of the most common ailments. Almost everyone, even people in comparatively good health, are subject from time to time to this malady. Because it manifests itself in more or less the same form and general locality, the majority of people are wont to believe that the source of the difficulty is located in the cranium itself. This is rarely the case.

The causes of headache are numerous and cannot be removed by the use of smelling salts, ice bags, cold towels and headache powders. Headache may come from defective teeth or eyes, from acute digestive disturbances, from a sluggish action of the liver and intestinal canal, long continued irritation of the nasal cavities, high blood pressure or other causes as widely varied as those mentioned.

Constantly recurring headaches may also be manifestations of profound systemic disturbances of some other part of the body which demands medical attention. The cause, more serious than the headache itself, should be found and cured. Often the immediate cause of headache is the over stimulation of the heart.

Undue heart stimulation accompanies a number of organic disturbances and results in abnormally high blood pressure in the brain; the majority of the headache remedies which are offered for sale contain some powerful heart depressant which brings temporary relief.

There is always danger however, in the use by a layman of any drug which is sufficiently strong to have this result when there is some weakness of the heart. These headache cures which are indiscriminately offered do not correct the real cause of the disturbance.

Serious or even fatal results may come from constant use and they cannot effect a cure. Anyone subject to recurring headaches should consult a physician that the cause may be determined before any treatment is given.

Three Things to Remember.

It is a maxim universally agreed upon in agriculture, that nothing must be done too late; and again, that everything must be done at its proper season, while there is a third precept which reminds us that opportunities lost can never be regained.—Pliny the Elder.

WE KNOW REZISTOL

Will Help You To Regain Your Strength and Energy

Report of the Hotel Physician in a Leading New York Hospital on the Cure of Brain Fatigue and Nervous Exhaustion.

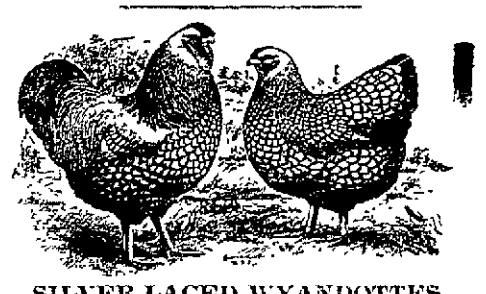

"A few years ago we considered that we were doing well if we cured 10 per cent. of the cases of Brain Fatigue and Nervous Prostration brought to us, but since the introduction of Rezistol into our hospital we cure more than 90 per cent. of all the cases in its various forms brought to us. It builds new tissues, gives new energy, new life, new blood and strength to any part of the body attacked by these diseases."

Rezistol is a powerful tonic nourishing food medicine, composed of valuable tonic "stimulants" obtained from vegetable drugs. Rezistol contains no narcotics or other dangerous drugs which merely deaden pain temporarily but give no permanent relief or cure the cause of disease.

Rezistol is a powerful body builder and blood maker: it is the best remedy known to the medical profession to enrich thin, watery blood and supply new rich blood to the whole body.

It will be found a most valuable remedy in cases of over stimulation in which the excessive use of liquor causes depression, dullness of the faculties or intoxication; it counteracts the depressing effects and restores the system to its normal condition.

FREE—To prove the wonderful merits of REZISTOL we will mail a large sample bottle for 25c in silver or stamps for postage, etc. Rezistol Chemical Co., Boston, Mass. 1914.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 9, 1915.

Well sir, we backed Mr. Blackburn up against a wall, punched back his head and made him look up and tell us that he would be there and support the Local Option Bill. We noticed he missed being present or did not vote on the second reading of Governor Brumbaugh's Child Labor Bill. We would like to see his vote on this measure. Local Option and Child Labor legislation before this Legislature are the most important to the people.

United States Senator Albert J. Cummins said a few days ago that if times brighten (and mills are running on full time) no one in the United States could beat Woodrow Wilson for President in 1916. Now he says that the Republicans can sweep everything in 1916. He is a candidate for the Republican nomination. He means to say that if he be nominated by the Republicans he will win everything, Republicans (?), Democrats (?), Progressives (?) and all. "How lordly ambition doth vault itself."

By getting a Local Option law passed, we will have placed the sale of intoxicants in the hands of the people and out of the hands of courts and we will have wrested from the Republican party its chief avenue for spoils for running campaigns, for it assessed all retailers and wholesalers heavily for cash by threatening to annul licenses where they controlled the courts. These assessments were imposed on all local men and some of our Democrats have contributed to their campaign funds. It is unfortunate that the courts got so low as that but they can't do that with our present court and not likely it will ever be permitted again so long as the people have a chance.

The Inquirer has headlines standing to call The Gazette a liar and it seems to have no moral compunction nor lack of ethical courtesy in passing the epithet along to its brother. We just want to repeat what we said in our former editorial that Mr. Blackburn goes to Harrisburg on Monday (and sometimes on Tuesday) and comes back on Thursday and that is the truth which no one can deny. All who are interested know it. All inferences drawn from that remark are of your mental caliber and not ours and we are not responsible for them. If those inferences are lies turn them upon yourselves and crack your own nuts.

We contend that Mr. Blackburn should be on the ground all the time, especially when such important legislation is up for consideration. If a member is to attend sessions only and vote, he's no account. He ought to wield some influence on his personal belief as to the needs and wants of the people. Eighty or 90 out of the 204 members of the House stay over Sunday. That is almost half. They must think it important to be on the ground even all the time. We know the sessions haven't amounted to anything, that the calendar is cleared every week, etc., but mingling with these fellow members gives you influence. You can't get it here in Bedford, you must be there. Is Dr. W. C. Miller up at Hyndman or over at Chaneyville preaching tuberculosis now? No. He's at Harrisburg now all the time and will be there until the Legislature adjourns. He is needed at Hyndman, Chaneyville and other points just before elections, but now he spends all his time in Harrisburg. His base of action is changed. Maybe he is working up Bedford County's influence and giving Bedford County's instructions. If he is there is no need to be present except to vote. Any one acquainted with the doctor knows where his influence would lead and from whom his instructions would come.

THE EXTIRPATION OF PESTS

The government and the states pile millions on millions in pursuit of the boll weevil, gypsy and other moths, San Jose and other scales, grasshoppers, beetles, caterpillars, flies, etc. Yet the damage to crops in this country from insect pests is placed at $800,000,000 annually.

In the long run these enemies of the food supply will be fought successfully only by introducing parasites, the natural foes of these insects. But that requires years for scientific investigation and experiment.

For some reason or other pests seem far more numerous than they were years ago. The killing off of birds is probably the principal cause. Yet this may not be the only reason. In these days when so much money is being spent by government agencies for pest suppression, does the individual farmer feel the responsibility for cleaning them off his own land? Or does he sit back and let the state and national agricultural departments do the work for him?

The old time farmer fought pests with a good deal of diligence. Years ago a plague of canker worms swept over the apple growing parts of the country. Many people will recall the care with which farmers in the sections affected used to smear belts of sticky substances around the base of their trees to trap the worms. Thus many orchards were saved, and after a few years the plague subsided. Government agencies need all the help the individual land owner can give in these efforts.

In sections now afflicted with the caterpillar and certain other insects, granges and other farmers' organizations are doing a useful work in enlisting the children to fight them. Many varieties of pests can be kept down by destroying their nests. The individual farmer may say that the individual bugs that he destroys are not the same ones that attack his crops. But if he sets the example of fighting the insects wherever possible, it will encourage his neighbors to take hold and clean them out or at least hold them down.

CONTINENTAL SYMPATHY

President Wilson and Ambassador Naon of Argentina have been exchanging compliments. Mr. Wilson said, at a luncheon in his honor given by Dr. Naon, that there is a growing sympathy and understanding between the United States and the other nations of this hemisphere. The Argentine diplomat responded in similar terms. Let it be hoped that these fine phrases do represent a real sentiment of continental unity.

Apparently the reason for the courtship of South America has been in the past that our manufacturers might sell more farm machinery, steel and boots and shoessouth of the equator. This is of course a laudable ambition. But it is not strange that our southern neighbors do not warm up very rapidly to any dollar bill flirtation.

Many Englishmen still think that painted and war whooping Indians are yet roaming the prairie not far from Chicago. Similarly our people look at South America as a country of revolutions, fever swamps, and half breeds. Actually the great cities of the southern hemisphere are in the fore front of the world in their beauty and convenience. Science, art, and business enterprise are achieving great triumphs under the Southern Cross.

Europe's madness has shown that the American hostility to kings and titled orders has been well based. That antagonism to feudal aristocracy has been shared equally by North and South America. It is a principle of similarity that runs through both continents alike.

The South American republics may have been turbulent. But for the most part they have lived at peace with each other. Their "culture" has never evolved any doctrine of militarism. Europe's shame should evolve a new respect for their nearly unbroken international harmony. Politically they are good Americans in spirit. It is time to stop calling them dagoes. To cultivate their friendship as well as to solicit their dollars.

THE "PLUG HAT" CENTENARY

Some comment is proceeding on the statement that the year 1915 completes the 100th year of the vogue of the tall hat, commonly referred to as the "plug hat." The Syracuse, N. Y., Standard thinks this resplendent article is on the decline. It has not seen one on the streets of that city since January 1. It is in the cities rather than in the country, in the East and North rather than the South and West, that the "plug hat" has had its principal vogue. If it be true that the men of a prominent Eastern city have practically discarded this sign of high dignity, the future of the tall hat looks dark indeed.

Formerly bank officials, manufacturers and other captains of industry, preachers of the gospel, lawyers and others occupying posts of importance, felt that a silk hat was an essential element in the dignity of their positions.

The result was that the syle was adopted by other classes of society of less established position. Indian doctors, circus and vaudeville press agents, side show barkers, felt that even a battered and faded old tile had value in their business. Such attempts at counterfeit dignity prejudiced the ordinary man against this pretentious article.

A great many men possess plug hats hidden away on top shelves. They were perhaps bought for their wedding, to please and impress wives or sweethearts. The sproutlings of the younger sets still cling to them, as a sign of the socially elect. In the more formal Smart Sets of the larger cities, they still appear on dress parade.

The ordinary man grows more informal every year. The plug hat is too much the sport of playful breezes, it requires a hat box for safe transportation and storage. It calls for too much care to suit the ordinary man, who likes easy and comfortable clothes. The century of this impressive article of men's wear will see it far less popular than it was on earlier anniversaries.

Now Paint

Strike when the iron is hot and paint when the property needs it. They paint ships a dozen times a year; yes, some of them, every voyage. What for, do you think? To look nice and get business.

A livery keeps its carriages painted and varnished and washed, to look nice and get business. A man, with a house for sale or to let, "does it up," and Devoe is the paint. There's more in paint than to keep out water. Paint for looks and you needn't think about water. A fresh coat of paint once a year is about as good for his credit as paying his debts. But the man whose buildings and fences look new, very likely has no debts.

STATE-WIDE GOOD ROADS DAY

Wednesday, May 26th, Has Been Designated as the Time.

The promotion of the Good Roads Campaign now being carried on in the sixty-seven counties of the state will produce greater results than were realized in Washington County last year. Many counties are already making plans for Good Roads Day, and it is urged that Wednesday, May 26th, be set apart as the day. Talk it over with your neighbors. Attend a meeting of citizens and discuss "good roads." Pick out the place in the road that is the most objectionable to you and fix it. Mere talk will not do the work.

What a State-Wide Campaign Will Mean

Estimating the value of the state wide campaign for better roads according to the results secured in Washington County last year, it is conservative to assume that in the sixty-seven counties of the state there would be 335,000 people working on the roads that day, supplying material worth $874,305. It would mean 20,100 teams at work, and 3,350 road drags placed on the road not only for that day, but also for future service, and of even greater value than the results of the work of that day would be the creation of interest in and enthusiasm for better roads.

In a census of 4,069 farms tributary to Minneapolis it was found that because the roads were bad the farmers could not go to market as quickly, nor as safely, nor haul as large loads, nor could they bring back home as much fertilizer from the center market as they could have done if the roads had been good. All this resulted in a loss which amounted to 9 per cent of the value of the marketed products.

Some Organizations that Should Be Busy in Our County

All the Granges in the county should get busy at once. Here is a fine chance for the Bedford Board of Trade and the Merchants' Association, and the Young Men's Association to do something that will count for the prosperity and betterment of the community. The Suffragettes should show an interest in this progressive movement. The Churches, too, especially in the rural sections should encourage the plan and co-operate as the condition of the roads greatly affects Church attendance. Why not appoint committees to represent every Church in the county? Merchants, bankers, doctors, lawyers, preachers, all are called upon to do their part in a work from which all get a benefit.

No county need wait for another but all plans should be made to culminate on Wednesday, May 26th. Let us get together and organize boards or appoint committees and start something.

Signed by the Committee of Bedford Grange No. 619.

New Paris

April 7—Prof. Pausin Hoover spent a few days last week at home. Worth Reckley, wife and daughter of Johnstown were guests in our vicinity not long since.

H. M. Ridenour, wife and son of Windber were callers on friends in our village on Sunday.

Bruce Blackburn, wife and daughter of Johnstown were guests in our village and community last week.

The public road leading from New Paris to Fishertown Station is being repaired up Chestnut Ridge and is under the supervision of Roadmaster Dewalt Blackburn. When completed will add much to the convenience and pleasure of travel.

Samuel Lape, Sr.

Samuel Lape, Sr., died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Glacken near Holsopple on March 30, aged 80 years and 25 days. He was a member of the M. E. Church for 49 years. A few years ago he sold his farm near New Paris to E. D. Weaver, making his home of late with his children. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Elizabeth, Mrs. John Rock of Ryot; Carrie, Mrs. Henry Miller near Helixville; Rebecca, Mrs. Othniel Felix near New Paris; Mary, Mrs. Washington Miller of Cessna; Margaret, Mrs. Dennis Grady of Johnstown; Ida, Mrs. Samuel Shaulis of New Paris; Della, Mrs. James Glacken near Holsopple, and Samuel near Hooversville. Funeral services were held in the Baptist Church near New Paris the afternoon of April 2, conducted by Rev. John Winwood. Interment in the Baptist Cemetery.

Coming to Bedford

Believing that this country is now on the verge of the greatest prosperity ever known, fully 100 Pittsburgh manufacturers, jobbers and bankers—the advance agents of prosperity and giants in the commercial world—will leave Pittsburgh May 18 on a four day tour of twenty-one towns in Pennsylvania and Maryland. It is not their purpose to solicit business, as this is strictly prohibited. Sample cases will be left at home. The tour is to be of a social business nature.

The trade tourists will travel in a special train of Pullmans and diners and will live aboard the cars—a veritable hotel on wheels. The busy men of Pittsburgh who will give of their time to make this trip want to become better acquainted with the manufacturers, bankers and merchants of the towns they will visit and to talk over matters that will be of a business benefit to them and to the communities visited.

The itinerary calls for the following stops: Leechburg, Vandergrift, Apollo, Blairsville, Johnstown, May 18; Altoona, Tyrone, Philipsburg, Clearfield, Huntingdon, Bedford, May 19; Cumberland, Md., Meyersdale, Somerset, Connellsville, Pa., May 20, and Scottsdale, Mount Pleasant, Latrobe, Greensburg, Jeannette, Irwin, May 21.

The captains of industry and banking in the Pittsburgh district feel that they are going among friends on this trip, for Pittsburgh capital has been sent by the millions into the communities to be invaded. The tour will be made under the auspices of the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh, whose members are all well known business men in the life of the community.

The wisdom of saving in our savings account on interest are increasing in number every day. Our community is realizing that the man who saves a dollar is a benefactor, and one who teaches another to save a dollar is a public benefactor. A dollar put in the savings account at compound interest takes root instantly. It is not burned by drought or killed by frost. It cannot be injured by famine or pestilence. It cannot be lost or borrowed by some pestilent friend. It works for you by day and by night, Sundays, legal holidays and week days are all the same to it. It isn't genius that wins—in the home run—isn't superior brains—it's the bull-dog grip. It is a firm determination to start a thing and keep it up.

Everett

April 7—Hugh Ritchey, son of Eli Ritchey, who has been working at Six Mile Run, is home for an indefinite time. His foot having been caught and painfully injured while hauling logs.

Miss Minnie Lucas, daughter of Mrs. James Lucas, who is a teacher in New Jersey, spent Easter at home.

John Sponsler and family of Altoona came to Everett on Friday, April 2. Mr. Sponsler returned to his home after Easter; Mrs. Sponsler and children remained for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Gogley, West Main Street.

Mrs. George B. May is a victim of a severe attack of grip. The Fred Coote residence on First Street is undergoing repairs.

Mrs. George Williams of Rainesburg, sister of Mrs. D. S. Gump of this place, passed through Everett Friday in an automobile enroute to the Roaring Spring Hospital.

Charles Laher left on Friday for Tippecanoe City, O., where he has a position in waiting.

Edward Fisher and family spent Easter with home folks at Wolfburg.

Charles Kline has moved his family into their new home on First Street. That Mr. Kline is progressive is shown in the fact that he has already had his dwelling painted.

The meeting of the teachers of the high schools and the grammar schools of the county will be held in the assembly room of the Everett High School on Saturday, April 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Steel and children of Altoona were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams over Easter. Mr. and Mrs. Steel will move to the farm recently purchased by Mrs. Charles Williams, West Providence.

Miss Alice Fletcher spent Easter with friends "over in Cumberland." The "suffrage garden" promises to be "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Barndollar's home was the scene of a quiet Easter wedding. Saturday afternoon the bride-elect, Miss Minnie Morse, daughter of Nathan Morse of Clearville, who has for two years made her home in Altoona, was met in Bedford by the groom-to-be, Alvey Jay, son of David Jay of Clearville, who had gone there in an auto, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Alton Barndollar. Easter morning at 9 o'clock Rev. John Hershberger of the Brethren Church officiated, after which a wonderful wedding breakfast consisting of all procurable dainties of Easter time was served by the hostess. The bride and groom left for the bride's home. Mr. and Mrs. Jay will be at home to their friends at Mr. Jay's farm near Clearville.

Wilbur, son of Harry Miller, of Johnstown visited home folks over Easter.

Randolph, the older son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Maust, is seriously ill with what is commonly known as a leakage of the heart.

"Add" Pee delivered a horse to Altoona on Monday.

The Presbyterian ladies will hold a chicken and waffle supper for 25c in the church parlors Friday evening.

Ernest H. Leasure and Miss Susannah Edwards were married Wednesday morning at the home of the bride at Tecumseh by Rev. George E. King of the M. E. Church.

Charles Stuckey and family left Monday for Kansas, where they will make their future home.

E. M. Baker, manager of the Everett Supply Store, and family left yesterday morning on a trip to Mifflintown.

WILLARD IS CHAMPION

Knocks Out Jack Johnson in Twenty-Sixth Round.

Jack Johnson lost his claim to fistie fame as the heavyweight champion of the world, the title being wrested from him by Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy, the biggest man who ever entered the prize ring, and a "white hope" who has at last made good, at Havana, Cuba, on Monday. John, his wife and a little group of friends will sail for Martinique, there to await passage back to France, where Johnson proposes to settle down and lead the life of a farmer, raising pigs and chickens. There is no doubt that he is through with the ring.

Willard, who is being acclaimed as the new champion, is coming back to the United States to win the fortune which was denied him Monday, when Johnson got $30,000 before the fight started. Willard taking only a small share of the net receipts. Just what his share was is not known.

The fight probably has no parallel in the history of ring battles. For twenty rounds Johnson punched and pounded Willard at will, but his blows grew perceptibly less powerful as the fight progressed until at last he seemed unable or unwilling to go on.

Johnson stopped leading and for three or four rounds the battle between the two huge men was little more than a series of plastic poses of white and black gladiators.

So it was until the twenty-fifth round, when Willard got one of his widely swinging windmill right-hand smashes to Johnson's heart. This was the beginning of the end.

When the round closed Johnson sent word to his wife that he was all in and told her to start for home. She was on the way out and was passing the ring in the twenty-sixth round when a stinging left to the body and a cyclonic right to the jaw caused Johnson to crumple on the floor of the ring where he lay partly outside the ropes until the referee counted ten and held up Willard's hand in token of his newly won laurels.

Willard probably is the most modest champion who ever stepped out of a prize ring, taking his victory as philosophically as he had looked forward to the fight. Neither he nor Johnson showed much evidence of having been engaged in a heavy-weight championship battle.

The new champion's lip, right ear and left cheek showed slight cuts, but at no time was there more than a drop or two of blood in evidence.

In this respect the fight was in great contrast to the Johnson-Jeffries fight at Reno five years ago, when Jeffries was cut to pieces and blood splashed over the spectators at the ringside.

On the contrary, no fight between heavyweights that has gone to a finish was cleaner or less brutal. Johnson's left eye was partly closed in the early rounds but not sufficiently to interfere with his fighting. His lip also was cut inside and his famous golden smile flashed from a very red setting.

The end of the fight came with a suddenness that dazed the spectators. It followed two or three rounds of almost complete idleness on the part of the contestants and the crowd settled down to a long drawn out struggle, believing that it would go to full limit of the forty-five rounds without either being able to register a knock-out.

It can hardly be said at present that Willard is a great fighter, but he is a wonderful specimen of physical manhood, and is likely to develop an aggressiveness and skill that may make him invincible for years to come.

Willard looked very clumsy against Johnson. A more skillful man might have knocked Johnson out after the twelfth round for after that the negro was going on speed and nerve and skill.

The crowd which paid to see the fight would be difficult to estimate, but it looked to number between 15,000 and 20,000. In addition, fully 5,000 persons viewed the fight from the distant slopes and hills. The Cubans, who made up a large percentage of the crowd, were much excited.

Many women, both Cuban and American, were present, as well as all the notables in the island.

The Closing Round

Johnson rose slowly from his chair and Willard met him more than two-thirds of the way across the ring. Willard stabbed a long left into the negro's face, sending his head bobbing back. Before the champion could recover his position Willard swung a smashing right which landed full on Johnson's stomach. Johnson was flung against the ropes by the force of the blow and he clinched on the rebound.

The cowboy tried to tear loose, but the black man held grimly with closed eyes and legs shaking. Just before the referee broke them Johnson looked over Willard's shoulder toward the box where his wife had been, his eyes showing a dazed, tired, puzzled expression.

As soon as Referee Welsh had broken the clinch Jess rushed again, forcing the negro into Willard's corner, where the finish came, Johnson was slow in guarding and his strong, youthful opponent hooked a swinging left to the body. The fading champion's legs quivered and again the towering giant feinted for the body. Johnson dropped his guard and Willard won the title with a quick hard swing to the exact point of the jaw.

The negro's knees folded up under him and he sank slowly to the floor and rolled over on his back, partly under the ropes.

Welsh waved Willard back and began to count. Up and down swung the referee's hands but Johnson never moved. His eyes were glassy, only the whites being visible.

At the count of "ten" Welsh turned and held up Willard's hand and a new champion replaced Johnson, who was still stretched on the floor of the ring. Time of round one minute, 26 seconds.

April 9, 2t. adv.

MORE than 5,000 cities and towns will this year participate in "opening weeks" in the National Clean Up and Paint Up campaign, according to Allen W. Clark, chairman of the National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Bureau, St. Louis. Many of these committees, Clark declares, are thus breaking away from the old established "clean up" or "annual bath" idea and are striving to make their improvement programs continuous performances.

Files in the bureau's offices, which indicate that the organization has in reality become a national clearing house for the dissemination of community betterment ideas, show that last year more than 2,000 cities and towns made an effort to "clean up and paint up." "This year," commented Chairman Clark, "it looks as though we would co-operate with more than 5,000 communities, in each of which some live civic leader is trying to improve living conditions. Though a majority of these campaigns will start with an 'opening week,' a definite program of activity, we know that the bureau's success has been chiefly due to the fact that we try to get away from the old-fashioned 'annual clean up' idea that has become odious to many civic leaders and an annual joke in many cities. The plans of the bureau call for continuous campaigns that bring permanent results and help form worth while civic habits."

The Work to Be Done

The work of the bureau this year is more comprehensive than ever before. Everything that will beautify, preserve, improve sanitation, reduce fire risks, and better health conditions has been carefully provided for. Among the things which local "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigners are doing this year are: Cleaning the streets and alleys, front yards, back yards, cellars, stables, atticks; the removal of ashes and rubbish; cleaning up vacant lots of rubbish and weeds; eliminating breeding places of flies and mosquitoes; planting and care of trees, hedges and flowers; and the liberal use of paint on everything that needs it.

It is this constructive, permanent nature of the improvements effected that has won the endorsement of national leaders, in every branch of civic uplift work. Among those serving this year on the National Bureau's advisory committee are:

Mrs. Clarence Baxter, Kirksville, Mo., chairman of the Women's Committee, and also vice chairman of the civics department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and chairman of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs. Dr. S. J. Crumrine, Topeka, Kan., president of the Association of State and Province Health Officers of North America. H. S. Buttenheim, New York, editor of "The American City." Clinton R. Woodruff, Philadelphia, secretary National Municipal League and editor of the "National Municipal Review." Mrs. Philip North Moore, St. Louis, ex-president National Federation of Women's Clubs. William Woodhead, San Francisco, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. P. S. Ridsdale, Washington, D. C., executive secretary American Forestry Association. Richard B. Watrous, Washington, D. C., secretary American Civic Association.

Paint and Self-Respect

The one most important factor in spreading the gospel of cleanliness, thrift and civic pride, which the Bureau is trying to do, is the work of newspaper editors throughout the country, asserts Chairman Clark. For instance, here is what Paul Brown editor of The St. Louis Republic, has to say of the movement:

"Thousands of American cities and towns have taken up the National 'Clean Up and Paint Up' campaign that originated in St. Louis three seasons ago. It has been endorsed by thousands of civic, commercial and women's organizations all over the nation. The cities that have made themselves a part of the movement are cleaner and better cities because of it. The Republic aided in launching the initial campaign and is glad to know that the Federation of Women's Clubs is planning a general St. Louis campaign for this spring. This will aid in making 'St. Louis the Healthiest City' for paint is the great preservative and a powerful aid in sanitation. Add to beauty and economy the fact that paint has a sanitary value, and the arguments apply with added force to the big cities. Naturally the paint dealer profits by such campaigns. None but the pessimist will object to this. He gives value received and more. The house that is painted is the better for it. A neighborhood that has cleaned up and painted up is a better one in which to live. Paint makes for self-respect and justifiable pride."

Worth Knowing

One of the quickest known ways of dispelling a headache is to give some of the muscles—those of the legs, for instance—a little hard, sharp work to do. The reason is obvious. Muscular exertion flushes the parts engaged in it, and so depletes the brain. When your head aches take a stiff walk or a short bicycle ride.

Are You Among the Large Number of Persons Who Last Week Started a Savings Account at the First National Bank, Bedford, Pa?

Having a savings bank account is one of the best possible incentives to saving. If you have one started, keep it up. If you have not opened one, come into this bank at your earliest convenience and find out about it. A savings account can be started in this strong institution with as small a sum as one dollar. Give your boy or girl a start and an opportunity by opening a savings account here for him or her.

Put something into the bank every week, even if the amount is small. You will find that such regular savings accumulate rapidly and the money thus saved will come in very handy some time when you need it worse than you do now.

If you have a vision of what you want to have or be, work and save now and you can accomplish it.

A WORD FROM THE WOMEN.

Say! ain't it funny what a lot of things men overlook.
They seem to feel we women never do a thing but cook.
They really think they run the house and everything that's in it.
But gee! they couldn't get along without us for a minute.
We women are the ones who keep the woodwork shining bright—Who buy enamel for the bath to make it glistening white.
We women varnish tables and we buy the stains for chairs.
And we buy the proper colors to brighten up the stairs.
We women are the ones who say what paint goes on the halls—
Which shades for parlor and den—for baseboards and for walls.
We women stain and wax the floors,
or else we make the man.
We women are the ones who keep the whole town spic and span.

rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence.
Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation of a Bedford resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

W. H. Weyant, grocer, 243 W. Pitt

Pills are not a new remedy to me. I have used them off and on for a number of years and wouldn't be without

Suggested Program for Civic Workers

HOW much better would our town look, how much would living conditions be improved, if every one would rally around a live committee and put over a definite "Clean Up and Paint Up" program?
Here is a suggestion:

Sunday—Civic Uplift Sermons in the churches.

Monday—FIRE PREVENTION DAY.
Clean your basements and attics of rubbish, greasy rags and waste paper, wherever possible.

Tuesday—FRONT YARD DAY.
Cut lawns, plant flower beds, clean walks and gutters. Salt cracks in sidewalks, exterminate ants.

Wednesday—DANDELION DAY.
This day can be very profitably used in ridding your lawn of dan-delfs, trimming bushes and gardens.
There is no more important work which the campaign could accomplish than to rid this city of the dandelion and weed pest.

Thursday—PAINT DAY.
Paint up inside and out, porches, fences, woodwork and porch chairs.
Business houses clean windows and replace old awnings.

Friday—BACK YARD DAY.
Clean alleys, repair fences and sheds, screen garbage cans. Put fly-traps on garbage cans. Put on screen doors.

Saturday—VACANT LOT DAY.
Boy Scouts and school children clean vacant lots, removing tin cans, paper and brush. Plow and plant garden plots wherever possible.
In some cities instead of giving one day to each of these activities two or three days, or a week, are given to each.

INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL
LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 11

DAVID ANOINTED KING.

GOLDEN TEXT—I Samuel 16:13-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Mah looketh on the outward appearance, but Jehovah looketh on the heart.—1 Samuel 15:7 R. V.

After the events recorded in last Sunday's lesson Samuel retired to Ramah never again to see Saul's face.
Samuel "mourned" (15:35) i. e., bewailed and lamented the deposed king.
It was noble for Samuel thus to be grieved over Saul's sin; still, God had work for him to do. There is a sorrow that "worketh repentance" which is pleasing in the sight of God, but that idle sorrow which spends itself in unprofitable mourning is detrimental to man and a hindrance to the kingdom of God (ch. 8:7; 15:1). Men may fail but the kingdom goes forward. We do not interpret verse 3 as suggesting any subterfuge on God's part but rather that God refused to pay any attention to Samuel's fear God answers fear by giving us duties to perform and in their performance we are delivered from our fears.

1. David Chosen to Be King, vv. 4-10.
Saul, the clamorous choice of the people, was not succeeded by David—"the man after God's own heart"—for several years after this lesson God's will in this matter was shown to Samuel progressively: (a) in chapter 13:14 Samuel is informed that God hath sought "a man after his own heart;" (b) in 16:1 he is told to go and find the king whom God had provided; (c) in verse 12 Samuel is at last definitely told whom God has selected. This selection is in accordance with the prophecy made centuries before regarding the kingly scourer (Gen. 49:10). Of course it was high treason, this act Samuel was about to perform, and Saul yet had many friends and supporters (v. 2).
God seems to have permitted Samuel to use one avowed purpose to conceal the real one, but "such a course is one to use but sparingly" (MacLaren).
God can and does protect those whom he sends (Ps. 34:7) and "man is immortal till his work is done." Just what or how did not concern Samuel for he had God's promise (v. 3). At taking a time was sufficient and in step each step Samuel was to tell the exact truth.

Thus God guides and tests his servants. Samuel was a judge as well as a prophet (ch. 7:16) and the people of Bethlehem were agitated at his arrival. It may be, too, that these elders were fearful of incurring the displeasure of Saul. There was no occasion for fear, as Samuel's purpose was to sacrifice and his mission one of peace even as the angelic messengers who quieted the shepherds with their message of "peace" when "great David's greater son" was ushered into the world. Jesse was a grandson of Ruth the Moabitess and also a descendant of Rahab the harlot. On his father's side he belonged to the strong tribe of Judah. He was evidently a man of some wealth, certainly in his children. After the sacrifice and before the feast Samuel, as made acquainted with the sons of Jesse. The first, Eliab, was tall and good to look upon and at once Samuel fixed upon him as the certain choice for Jehovah.

II. David Anointed King, vv. 11-
13. Seven sons are set aside and yet Samuel did not hear the voice of God's approval. In seeming dismay he asks, "Are here all thy children?"
Jesse seems to have made a careless and reluctant reply that the youngest was away from home tending sheep.
Thereupon Samuel asserts that "we will not sit down (to the sacrificial feast) till he be brought hither." It is from such lowly positions that God is constantly promoting men to positions of responsibility and prominence.
Witness Carey, Livingston, Moody and a hundred others past and present.
David at this time was about fifteen years old (Becher). His name means "darling," significant of the affection of his mother, whose name is unknown, but to whom David twice makes reference (Ps. 86:16; 116:16).
David was short, compared with his brothers, but had bright eyes (v. 12 margin), and a fair face—a "comely person" (v. 18). David was agile and strong and though seemingly scoffed at by his brothers and neglected by his father it did not pervert his good nature nor turn him from the performance of his duties. Samuel did not greet David as he had greeted Saul, he may have been disappointed. This gives emphasis to the words in verse 12, "Arise anoint him: for this is he."

David is anointed, set apart, for the kingship, but is not equipped nor does he enter upon his offices till later.

In this he is a type of Jesus who shall yet reign on David's throne.

Verses 12 and 14 tell of the developing contrast in the lives of Saul and David. David the young king, potential only at this time, is a great inspiration to the young of all ages in that, (1) He did his lowly work thoroughly; (2) While doing it he sought to cultivate and improve himself (v. 18), and (3) He gave himself holly to God. The word "anoint" means to set apart for a special purpose.

Wilkes-Barre Suffragists Plan Attic Day
Wilkes-Barre, April 5.—As part of their campaign to raise funds for the cause, the Wilkes-Barre Suffragists are planning a novel sort of bazaar which will be held during the latter end of this month. The workers in charge are going to call it an "Attic Day" Sale. Actually it will be a novel form of rummage sale, as it will consist of all the quaint and valuable furniture, china, rugs, quilts, embroideries and other household articles that have been stored away in attics during the past twenty or thirty years.

Now that old-fashioned furniture and decorations are being brought into popular use, it is believed that it will hold a premier position in the well attended

The springtime is nearly upon us, the time for cleaning up and painting up. Those who have contemplated improvements to their homes or their property in any part of the city, and who were deterred by the bad weather of this winter, could not do a better thing than get ready now for the clean up and paint up campaign.

THE BOYS ALONG THE LINE
By J. G. London
I've traveled far, I've traveled near,
In many a changeable clime;
I've met with many grades of men
Both mealy and sublime.
But out along the Midland
My cares I soon resign.
When I meet the ticket agents—
The boys along the line.

I first greet Russell Lowry,
And shake his friendly hand;
And view his cosy station.
Where everything is grand.
Next comes Warren Feathers,
Far up the iron trail,
He dishes out the pasteboards
At growing Reynoldsdale.

We follow up the winding track,
The Pensyl Railroad owns—
And find ourselves at Osterburg
To meet with Russell Jones,
Who handles out the tickets
With courtesy so fine,
For he's a finished gentleman,
As a boy along the line.

The next we find is Imier,
"With Johnny on the spot,"
Who lives above the station
In a cosy little cot;
Up in the morning early—
To meet the train at nine;
For he's an all day hustler—
Is this boy along the line.

Ho, ho! here's George McCleary,
Who's neither fat nor lean;
But always up to business.
At the station named as Queen
So if you need a ticket sign,
Just tip the needful sign,
And George will give the permit
To travel on the line.
(Dedicated to the agents along the Midland Railroad.)

SPRING STYLES BECOMING STANDARD

The Long Tunic Appears Slashed and Abbreviated Almost to Apron Effect

STYLES FOR JUNIORS

New York, April 6, 1915.

In April, Spring tendencies begin to crystallize and we are able to surmise what will be standard and what is a mere fad and soon to die.

We now know that the Empire dress has come to stay with us for the Summer at least, and will be worn by women whose slender, girlish figures will allow of such lines. Others will eschew this type of frock for it is essentially for the youthful figure.

The skirts are full and short, very high shoes being worn to disguise the fact that with the ordinary shoes the dress would be above the shoe-tops. For the street, the skirts are plain and full, being either gathered, or pleated, or placed on a yoke. One smart blue serge skirt was box-pleated at the top, with a slash under every other pleat through which was drawn the patent-leather belt.

noticeable for the placing of its pockets, is of pique and clasps in the front with pearl button-clasps.

The separate waist and skirt are holding a strong place in the wardrobe of the woman of today. The waists are usually trim and tailored in their lines, and the skirt should be short and flaring around the lower edge, while the shoes of sand, gray, black, or tan should lace up the side instead of the front.

Large white linen or pique collars, with cuffs to match, are charming worn over the simple waist of gray or black, giving the effect of a Puritan or a Quaker costume. Gray taffeta is used for one dress, with a skirt tucked in large tucks in the back; while the front, which commences at the hips, is perfectly plain. The full waist is topped with a large unstarched linen collar, and the long, close-fitting sleeves have gauntlets to match the collar.

Some waists are made with a square or oval opening in front—something like the shape of a man's shirt bosom, only not so deep. A tucked or pleated front of white or gray, with a round collar fitting neatly over the back, is used for a chemisette in these waists.

An Up-to-Date Separate Waist, Belt, and Skirt

The long tunic has not disappeared, for on some of the most up-to-date suits they are worn. These tunics are so long, however, that it is but an inch or so of the undershirt that is seen beneath. Sometimes the tunic is shorter in front than in the back and the lower skirt may be of a contrasting material. Such a skirt I saw recently of black taffeta and black-and-white striped taffeta. The waist worn with this skirt was made with a black collar lined with the striped material and flaring so that the black and white formed a decided trimming feature of the waist.

Other tunics are slashed up the side and give almost an apron effect front and back. Again, the tunic shrinks to a mere apron in front, which may have rounded corners and be edged with a narrow, fluted ruffle of the same material.

In my illustration is to be seen a checked taffeta dress, which is made with the up-to-date tunic skirt. The check is in gray and black, and white with a touch of sand is used for the body of the waist and for the tunic or overskirt. The vest of the waist and the undershirt are of gray taffeta. A cunning little hat is worn with this dress, and is strictly tailored in its simplicity and extremely smart.

Suits are very smart which have a covert cloth jacket and a skirt of black covert, the connecting link between coat and skirt being a black collar on the coat.

The military effect is to be seen in linen suits. A very well-cut linen suit in oyster-white was made on Norfolk lines with a belt and very large pockets on the side over the hips. The box-pleats in the coat were duplicated in the box-pleats on the skirt, which, in this case, were pressed down to the hem. In the wool skirts the pleats are often laid in at the top, but are not pressed in.

Braid is also used to give the military effect to jackets or waists with a cut far from military. A dress with a basque-like bodice of dark blue and a plain, full skirt had four heavy braid frogs fastened directly across the front. Narrow braid outlined the lower edge of the waist. The hat worn with this dress was the crowning feature of its militarism. It was black, round and rather shallow, and worn well over the forehead. Directly in front was a cockade of gray, black and red ostrich fronds.

Calot striped and checked taffetas in the sand color and black combinations are extremely smart. One which I liked very much was made with a surprise bodice and a skirt cut bias front and back, with the sides cut on the straight lines of the material and pleated. A girdle of the same material was worn around the waist, ending in the back with a large up-and-down bow of the checked silk. My first illustration shows the trim tailored lines of an up-to-date shirt waist of sand-colored chiffon and a trim black skirt. The belt, which is

A Checked and Plain Taffeta Dress with Tunic Skirt

Children's clothes, from the little tots to the juniors, show the simplest of lines. Linen is used again and again in blue, white, and the soft shades of rose and tan which are so smart. One dress which was worn by a twelve-year-old girl was of a soft shade of rose. A little long-sleeved bolero jacket was cut with square corners, each one embroidered with a simple design in the same color. A pleated skirt hung from a high waistline, while the daintiest of batiste blouses merely peeped from underneath the tiny jacket.

This same girl had removed a coat of Dutch blue chiffon broadcloth made with an Empire waist and pleated skirt. A wide braided belt was worn over the joining of waist and skirt, and was stitched at the top only, leaving a stand-away appearance at the lower edge. The hat worn with this coat was of sand-colored and black straw trimmed with a single band of black grosgrain ribbon about an inch and a half in width, which ended in double loops in the back which hung to the shoulders.

The party dresses for the little girls this age were made of sheer organdy or batiste. One was made with the decided Empire waist and was charming, while the other which I noted particularly was made with a waistline just below the normal. The skirt was made with double ruffles edged with lace, but the whole effect from arm-pit to bottom of skirt was very straight and up and down, and the sleeves were three-quarter length rather than short or very long.

Texas Hay Crop Goes to France
The surplus hay crop of Texas will be practically cleaned up by an order for 80,000 tons of hay placed by the French government through Lieutenant Vialat of the French army, who is stationed at Galveston; W. L. Edmundson of Houston, and the Liverpool Hay and Grain Company of Liverpool. The initial order is for 32,000 tons of hay, which will be used for food for cavalry and artillery horses in Europe.

The entire State of Texas is being combed to fill the monster order. It will require 3,200 cars of hay, a total of 100 solid trainloads, to make up the initial order. The hay will be compressed at Galveston for water shipment.—Chronicle.

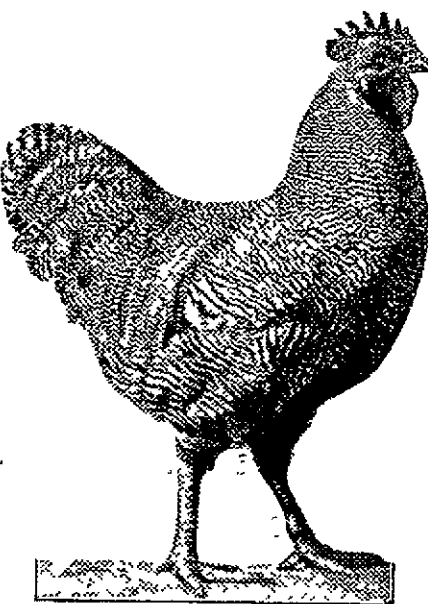

MEANING OF 'DOUBLE MATING'

Subject of Interest to Fanciers of Some Breeds, Particularly Barred Plymouth Rocks.

Real poultry fanciers often go into details that have little interest for the practical man and little real bearing on egg production. One subject the fanciers of some breeds, particularly Barred Plymouth Rocks, have to deal with is "double mating," or "pullet mating," and "cockerel mating," which needs explanation for those not familiar with the topic.

This is a result of the breed standard calling for one color or shade for the cock and another for the hen Plymouth Rock standards, for example, call for darker males than would normally be produced by mating properly colored males with properly colored females, and they also call for lighter colored females than would be secured by the same mating. To overcome this and to get results up to breed qualifications it is customary to mate rather comparatively dark males and comparatively dark females when exhibition cockerels are desired, and lighter than normal birds for exhibition pullets. The first is a "cockerel mating," the second a "pullet mating." The breed specifications thus tend to make extra work for the breeder, who should be permitted to breed only for color, form and egg production.

PREVENT SOFT-SHELLED EGGS

One Suggestion Is That Hens Are Not Getting Enough Lime—Over-Feeding Is Another Cause.

Soft-shelled eggs may possibly be a suggestion that the hens are not getting enough lime. Far more likely it is, when your hens start laying soft-shelled eggs, that you have been over-feeding, and in consequence the fowls are too fat. Therefore a reduction in quantity, as well as a change of diet is necessary.

An excellent plan is to find out which particular hen is at fault, and confine her to a less fattening ration, with only a small amount of water. At the end of a week restore her to the flock, and generally increase amount of lime given in food. A period of this dieting, followed by an abundance of oyster shells is almost certain to speedily correct the trouble.

When the egg has a normal shell, but one which is very thin, it is a very good indication that the hen is all right, but that lime is too scant. In this case supplying oyster shells, or lime in another form, is quite sure to make the egg shells thicker and stronger very quickly.

DAMPNESS DOES MUCH HARM

Young Duck or Gosling Cannot Stand Heavy Wetting—Cause of Rheumatism and Colds.

Getting the body wet in spring or early summer will generally kill a young duck or gosling.

Dampness will give them rheumatism and cold, and cold will bring on sore eyes.

A young duck caught in the rain will often raise its head, open its mouth, and stand stone still until it drowns, when but a few feet farther along it could have found shelter.

Feed Meat in Some Form.

There must be meat in some form in the daily bill of fare of laying and growing stock. But that amount should not exceed over 25 per cent of the total amount of feed fed. Too much meat and bone produces laxity of the bowels, impairs the digestive organs, and often results in soft-shelled, thin-shelled and infertile eggs.

Value of Nest Eggs.

While nest eggs have nothing to do with increased egg production, they have a good mission in teaching the hens to lay in certain places, instead of dropping their eggs any and everywhere.

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

LIQUOR AND HEALTH.

Important evidence with regard to liquor and the public health was brought before the committee on the regulation of the liquor traffic in the District of Columbia by Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale university. Professor Fisher showed—

That the lowering of the death rate in London has been exactly parallel to the lowered consumption of liquor in that city.

That the lessening of liquor consumption in Sweden has been followed by a remarkable lowering of its already low death rate.

That alcohol, even in moderate quantity, actually lessens efficiency mental and physical.

That alcohol greatly increases the susceptibility to disease.

That alcohol is an important cause of insanity.

That alcohol lessens the average length of life, as shown by the reports of insurance companies and friendly societies.

That alcohol increases poverty.

These are the findings of cold science, not the testimony of anti-alcohol enthusiasts.

DRINK STATISTICS.

Figures showing an increase since 1904 of three gallons per capita in the nation's consumption of alcoholic drinks need a footnote.

While the average consumption for 1913 was 22.68, the average in 1907 and again in 1911 was 22.79. This gives the Prohibitionists a fair argument for the success of their labors in at least preventing an increase.

What is more, the actual consumers of alcohol are estimated to be about 25.5 per cent of the total population, with an average of 89 gallons each. Of this 25.5 per cent it would be interesting to know what proportion do the heavy drinking.

If hard drinkers drink more but grow fewer, while the number of those who drink little or nothing keeps fairly steady, totals and averages need not cause much worry to temperance workers.—New York World.

A SOBER NAVY.

"No drinking in the navy" is an order everywhere respected, says Miss Ellen Stone, formerly of European Turkey, whose capture and ransom at great cost some years ago is still vividly remembered. "The naval officer is a splendid type of manhood," she continues. "To him an order is an order. Americans now need never fear to see on shore a jackie or marine from an American battleship in an intoxicated condition, which brings disgrace to the country whose uniform he wears. With shame and sorrow I have seen men from the battalions of other nations, in the streets of Saloniki, jeered at by Turks, Jews and others of that ancient city. Wonder of wonders that the ocean should go 'dry!'"

EVEN THE PUGILISTS.

Joe Shugrue, the popular Jersey City pugilist, is a total abstainer. The sporting editor of the Chicago Tribune says of him: "To be banqueter and lauded by high city officials has not fallen to the lot of any New York boxer, but Joe holds this distinction. . . . Shugrue is not only a teetotaler but frowns upon the use of liquor by the young men who are proud of his acquaintance."

BETTERMENT OF HUMANITY.

"Every movement for the betterment of humanity," says Mr. John Cunnene, the labor leader, "has been fought by people who said it would throw somebody out of work. It was so when oil came to displace candles gas to supplant candles, and electricity in place of gas. For every man out of work by voting the saloons out, the saloons, if they stay, will put ten out of work."

QUITE A DIFFERENCE.

Eight miners in a West Virginia coal mine, and all of them drinkers worked under the same conditions during the wet month of June and the dry month of August, conditions being the same both months except as to the drink. In June, when they could drink, and did, they earned $214.77; in August, with the drink banned and impossible, their earnings were $449.96.

CAUSE OF DESERTION.

In the eastern provinces of Germany the government has prohibited the sale of all alcoholic liquors. This action has been taken owing to the findings of the court-martial that in almost every instance desertion of the soldiers has been due to drink.

LIQUOR MEN PAY FINE.

How the liquor men are reforming: At Paterson, N. J., the liquor dealers have paid the fines of 30 Sunday law violators during the past few months.

ALCOHOL IN FRUITS.

"Alcohol is not in fruits or grains any more than ptomaine poisons are in meat."

SELLER CAN'T CONTROL.

After you sell a man liquor, his moderate or immoderate use of it is beyond your control.

Room for 200,00 Farmers

That is what the people of Kern County claim and the claim is not far from the actual figure. Kern is a tremendous county and is undergoing tremendous development. This great country can accommodate many thousands of homeseekers. Here are opportunities for the citrus fruit-grower, the deciduous fruit-grower, the practical dairyman, the stock-raiser, the poultryman, the general farmer and the truck gardener.

We have a beautiful book describing Kern County. This book will be sent to you upon receipt of your name and address and a two-cent stamp to help pay the postage. Better still, send us ten cents in stamps and we will send you the Kern County book, a map of California and a sample copy of Sunset Magazine, the big Pacific Coast national magazine. Address

Oats Smut and Potato Scab

For oats smut use one pint of 40% formalin to 45 gallons of water. For potato scab a pint to 30 gallons of water. You can get the formalin at any up to date drug store.

Treatment for smut and scab should not be during very cold weather. Wait until it is fairly warm.

Clean the barn floor, spread out the oats and sprinkle them with the formalin solution, using a common watering can, and raking over or shoveling over the oats while watering them to make sure that they are all well moistened. Cover with sacks to prevent too rapid evaporation of the liquid. Take the covers off in two hours, dry the oats and resack them in clean sacks, or in sacks which have been moistened with the solution and dried. If you put the oats back into the granary bin the bin must be carefully wiped out or sprinkled with the formalin solution; and a cloth wet with the solution should be used to cleanse the drill feed box, which should then be dried with a clean cloth.

It is best to treat oats shortly before seeding; but the treatment may be earlier if necessary. If, when you come to seed, the oats are still swollen from the moisture, you will have to seed heavier to insure a full stand. For potato scab the formalin solution (1 to 30) should be in a barrel, and the sacked potatoes put clean under the solution for two hours, then taken out and the sack with the potatoes hung up to dry.

This treatment kills scab on the seed potatoes, but not in the ground. Scab hangs over in the ground for seven years, perhaps longer. In ground known to be infested with scab lime and fresh manure will make the condition worse.

To get rid of scab in the ground drill in 300 pounds of flour of sulphur per acre before seeding. It is very effective on controlling scab. Where ground is badly infested with scab the expense for the sulphur will be more than repaid by the additional quantity of marketable potatoes due to lack of scab, and the increase of the quantity of marketable tubers as compared with culls thrown out because undersized.

In selecting fertilizer for potatoes it will pay to use sulphate of potash in place of muriate, though the former costs more money.

And, while you are controlling the scab, you might as well go a step further and spray as insurance against blight damage. There is no question about this practice being a paying one; that is, it pays not only for material and labor but a handsome bonus, on an average, as well.
